

Nov. 10: Climate Variability and Climate Change: The New Climate Dice: Data on the increasing frequency of extreme events. Sep. 28: It's a Hard-Knock Butterfly's Life: On a lady butterfly and the intelligent species.

Fiji is stepping up regional climate talks after the United Nations' top court agreed to rule on countries' legal duties to fight climate change. Prime Minister Sitiveni Rabuka said Fiji was ...

Since 2016, presidents and their administrations have increasingly drawn lawsuits arguing that they are overstepping their authority. In these ultra vires claims, litigants contend that ...

Puentes calls for a shift from fragmented environmental action to a holistic, justice-centered vision. For her, protecting ecosystems means addressing systemic inequalities and listening to the ...

Colombia enfrenta graves consecuencias climáticas pese a no ser un gran emisor de gases. En 2024, vivirá su año más cálido, y el impacto del cambio climático ya amenaza a su población y ...

In short: A study by World Weather Attribution found no clear link between climate change and recent deadly rainfall in Colombia and Venezuela, citing high uncertainties due to limited data ...

Part of what is making the problem worse in Colombia and other hot spots around the world are the plethora of dams operating at a time when climate change is triggering droughts around ...

“Colombia and Brazil to present proposal for new critical minerals pact at COP30”, 30 October 2024 “Colombia and Brazil have launched a push for a new binding global treaty on traceability for the critical minerals needed for ...

States must safeguard the global climate system and prevent human rights violations resulting from its disruption. On Friday, Colombia called a ruling by the Inter-American Court of Human ...

That's how a group of researchers described the lack of data to establish the role of climate change in the intense rains that fell in Colombia and Venezuela in late June, causing a ...

The causes of climate change are mainly due to human activity (individual and collective), and it endangers human and natural systems [7]. Among its aggravating factors, climate change ...

Recent devastating floods, triggering landslides that killed 27 and displacing over 4,700, exposed a critical "scientific injustice": a lack of robust data and climate modeling tailored to the tropics, ...

Mangrove forests - spanning the tropical coastlines of Asia, Africa and Latin America - play a vital ecological role and are among the planet's most powerful natural allies in the fight against ...

The IACtHR establishes that States have a series of obligations to ensure a healthy environment and climate, and prevent violations of human rights. To this end, the IACtHR develops the ...

Within a single month, two groundbreaking advisory opinions on climate change have been issued, fundamentally shaking the field of international environmental and human rights law: ...

In rural Ubaté, Colombia, students at ICAM are tackling climate change with science. From purifying water to studying solar radiation, these young changemakers are transforming their ...

Consequences of Recognising Irreversible Climate Harm as Jus Cogens The legal consequences of the recognition as jus cogens of the obligation not to create irreversible damage to the ...

The Pacific island nation of Vanuatu is living with the daily realities of climate change, as intensifying cyclones, rising seas and saltwater intrusion reshape its coasts and disrupt life.

Here, existing atmospheric patterns and global warming collide in increased climate variability and extremity, affecting the lives of hundreds of thousands of Indigenous Wayuu peoples. Native to ...

Climate change colombia

Web: <https://www.ichipcorp.co.za>

